

Capt Dave Holsworth – Bronze Medal – 6th CISM World Military Golf Championship

The 6th CISM (Conseil international du sport militaire) World Military Golf Championship was held in Windhoek, Namibia from 14-21 November 2009. The Engineer family was represented by CEFCOM J Engr Ops, Capt Dave Holsworth, a first time member of the CF team. The CF Team pulled through on a crucial Day 3 after being tied with Pakistan after Day 2, and then kept the lead to win the Bronze (<http://armedforcesports.defense.gov/>). Looking realistically at that field of competition, the always strong USA team, and the Denmark team with two players turning Pro in the near future...Bronze was not something they settled on, but was something they fought for and won. The team was also awarded the Fair Play Award which was decided on by their peers. The president of CISM Golf told members of the team that typically a country that wins this award gets 2 votes, 3 votes is a lock to win...he wouldn't give them a final count but said that there had never been a more unanimous vote than there was in this competition.

Well done Dave!

Please note also that another CME member, LCol Al Jensen was a member of the CISM Golf CF Team from 1990 to 2008.

CHIMO!
